Dear Prosecutor General,

I am writing to you in the case of Erkin Musaev.

I call on you to release Erkin Musaev on the grounds that repeated calls for a fair retrial in his case have gone unheeded for eight years.

I demand a prompt, impartial and effective investigation into the allegations that Erkin Musaev was tortured in custody.

I urge you that any police officers or other state actors found responsible for torturing and ill-treating Erkin Musaev are brought to justice.

Yours sincerely,

Bent Høie
Minister of Health and Care Services

Dear Minister,

I am writing to you with regards to the request introduced by Ms John Jeanette Solstad Remø to seek legal recognition of her gender. I urge you to allow John Jeannette to change her legal gender, including the gender markers on her official documents issued by the state, through a timely, accessible, and transparent procedure.

I call on you to introduce the following reforms:

- Introduce a legislative proposal that sets out a framework allowing transgender people to obtain legal recognition of their gender through a timely, accessible, and transparent procedure and in accordance with the individual's sense of gender identity;
- Abolish the sterilization requirement as well as any other medical requirement currently enforced in instances where transgender people seek legal gender recognition;
- Remove gender identity from the classification of mental diseases and reclassify aspects relevant to the provision of health care in a non-stigmatizing health category;
- Ensure that transgender people can access the health treatments they wish on the basis of their informed consent;

Yours sincerely,

Minister of Justice, Transparency and Human Rights

Dear Minister,

I am writing to you regarding the attacks against Paraskevi Kokoni.

I urge you to ensure that those responsible for the attack against Paraskevi Kokoni are convicted and the hate crime is duly taken into account in sentencing: Any conviction of the perpetrators should also take into account the anti-Roma atmosphere in Paraskevi Kokoni's home town Etoliko, as demonstrated by the attacks against the Roma community in August 2012 and January 2013.

I call on you to undertake the necessary review of Greece's legislation in order for the police to be obliged to pursue a line of enquiry about the possible hate motive behind attacks similar to Paraskevi Kokoni's case.

I urge you that all crimes perpetrated with a discriminatory motive, including racially motivated crimes, are fully and effectively investigated, including by taking all steps to highlight the discriminatory motive behind the crime. I call on you to those against whom sufficient admissible evidence exists should be prosecuted under laws providing for sanctions that reflect the gravity of the human rights abuses.

Yours sincerely,

President Obama

Dear President,

I am concerned that Private Chelsea Manning was sentenced to 35 years in prison. Some of the information leaked by Chelsea Manning was of great value to the public debate since it pointed to potential human rights violations and breaches of international humanitarian law by US troops, by Iraqi and Afghan forces operating alongside US forces, by military contractors and by the CIA.

I am concerned that at her trial, Chelsea Manning was not allowed to present evidence that she was acting in the public interest, and was only allowed to explain her motives at the sentencing phase. Given Chelsea Manning's motivation for acting as she did, the treatment she endured in early pre-trial detention, and the due process shortcomings during her trial, I respectfully urge you to commute her sentence to the time she served in pre-trial detention, and immediately release her.

I urge the US government to urgently investigate the potential human rights violations exposed by Chelsea Manning.

I urge the US government to strengthen protections for those who reveal information that the public has the right to know, and to stop using the Espionage Act to prosecute whistleblowers like Chelsea Manning.

Yours sincerely,

Narendra Modi

Honorable Prime Minister,

This year marked the 30th anniversary of one of the world's worst industrial disasters – the 1984 gas leak in Bhopal. However, three decades on, victims and survivors are still struggling to obtain justice, and the companies involved have not been properly held to account.

I urge you to initiate a full environmental clean-up of the former UCIL factory site and provide medical assistance for those affected.

I call on you to hold the companies involved, including UCC and Dow, to account by ensuring that they pay adequate compensation to victims of the gas leak, comply with outstanding criminal proceedings, and cover the costs of the clean-up operation.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Minister,

I am concerned about several barriers that prevent women and girls from accessing early and ongoing ante-natal care in Mkhondo Local Municipality.

I urge you to take immediate measures to remove all barriers that women and girls in Mkhondo Local Municipality face in accessing ante-natal care and emergency health services, including by purchasing an obstetric ambulance for the Municipality and reinstating the mobile clinic programme in all communities in Mkhondo Local Municipality.

I call on you to prioritise providing additional training for healthcare workers, including in Mkhondo Local Municipality, on patient rights and how to provide professional, non-discriminatory services, particularly to adolescents.

Yours sincerely,
